Case No.: _____

NOTICE OF REMOVAL

JUDGE SCHEINDLIN

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE:

DEFENDANTS THE PADDED WAGON, INC., ("The Padded Wagon"), and RIGGED RITE, INC., ("Rigged Rite"), by and through their attorneys in this action, Goldberg & Associates, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332, 1441 and 1446, and with the written consent of all other parties to this action, hereby remove the above-captioned action from the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of Bronx, where it is pending under the Index No. 13662/06, to the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. In support thereof, defendants show as follows:

1. The undersigned is an attorney admitted to practice before the Courts of the State of New York and this honorable court, who is associated with the law firm Goldberg & Associates, attorneys for defendants The Padded Wagon and Rigged Rite in this action.

NATURE OF ACTION AND PERTINENT PROCEDURAL HISTORY

2. The instant action arises out of injuries allegedly sustained by plaintiff ANGEL DeLEON ("DeLeon") at a work site located at 521 West 23rd Street, New York, on February 9, 2006. In particular, DeLeon claims that negligence by one or more of the named defendants was the proximate cause of an accident that resulted in amputation of the tip of his left index finger.

3. Plaintiff originally commenced the instant action by means of purchasing in index number and filing a summons and complaint on or about _____. In his pleadings, plaintiff alleged that his residence at the time the action was commenced was in the State of New York. A true copy of plaintiff's summons and verified complaint is annexed hereto as Exhibit "A".

4. The Padded Wagon and Rigged Rite each joined issue by service of an answer to the Verified Complaint on June 26, 2006. Co-defendants R.D. RICE CONSTRUCTION, INC., ("R.D. Rice") and EMPIRE ERECTORS AND ELECTRICAL CO., INC., ("Empire"), also appeared by counsel and served answers.

5. Thereafter, R.D. Rice commenced a third-party action by which it impleaded numerous additional parties. Pursuant to an Order dated June 22, 2007, a true copy of which is annexed hereto as Exhibit "B", the third-party action was severed from the underlying personal-injury action, but remains pending. In the interim, on or about August 4, 2006, plaintiff served a Response to Demand for Ad Damnum, a true copy of which is annexed hereto as Exhibit "C". On or about August 8, 2006, plaintiff served a Verified Bill of Particulars, a true copy of which is annexed hereto as Exhibit "D", pursuant to which plaintiff amplified and supplemented the allegations set forth in his original complaint.

6. On March 6, 2008, plaintiff's examination before trial began. DeLeon's deposition continued through March 7 without being completed. There have been no further proceedings.

BASIS FOR REMOVAL

7. Plaintiff's Complaint and Verified Bill of Particulars allege that plaintiff resided in the State of New York at the time this action was commenced and/or by the date of service of these papers.

Notwithstanding verification of these allegations by plaintiff's counsel, DeLeon revealed during the course of his deposition that he had relocated from New York to North Carolina prior to commencement of the instant action. In particular, DeLeon testified that: (a) he had already obtained a North Carolina driver's license prior to February 9, 2006; (b) his wife had moved from New York to North Carolina; and (c) although he was staying with his mother in her apartment in Brooklyn on the date of the accident giving rise to this action, he and his wife had already obtained a residence in North Carolina.

8. DeLeon's actual sworn testimony therefore eliminates any legitimate question that notwithstanding the formal pleadings served by his counsel in this matter, DeLeon had already become a domiciliary of the State of North Carolina prior to the date this action was commenced. DeLeon's testimony also reveals that this fact was concealed from defendants throughout the course of this litigation thus far.

9. By contrast, defendants in this matter are all domiciliaries of the State of New York. Specifically:

- a. The Padded Wagon, Inc., is a domestic business corporation organized and existing pursuant to the law of the State of New York with its principal place of business located in the County of New York;
- b. Rigged Rite, Inc., is a domestic business corporation organized and existing pursuant to the law of the State of New York with its principal place of business located in the County of Bronx;
- c. R.D.Rice Construction, Inc., is a corporation organized and existing pursuant to the law of the State of New York with its principal place of business located in the County of New York; and
- d. Empire Erectors and Electrical Co., Inc., is a domestic business corporation organized and existing pursuant to the law of the State of New York with its principal place of business located in the County of Bronx.

10. Thus, notwithstanding plaintiff's counsel's inadvertent but repeated material misrepresentation of plaintiff's place of residence and domicile, DeLeon's actual testimony under oath confirms that he had permanently relocated and intended to remain in North Carolina by the time this action was commenced. Of note, to obtain a North Carolina driver's license, plaintiff necessarily had to surrender his New York license and, upon information and belief, submit proof of residency to the North Carolina Division of Motor Vehicles.

11. Plaintiff's original complaint fails to set forth a monetary value for his injuries. Plaintiff's counsel has, however, verbally communicated a demand for $750,000. In the Verified Bill of Particulars, plaintiff enumerates his injuries as follows:

Active bleeding at wound site;

Plaintiff[was] required to undergo surgery to the left index finger on 2/16/06, wherein the following was performed;

Feelings of inadequacy, embarrassment, self-consciousness;

Permanent loss of power, strength, grasp, grip and dexterity of left hand;

Permanent severe disfigurement and deformity of left hand;

Permanent disability and restricted use, motion and function of the left hand;

Plaintiff may require additional surgery to left hand.

All with pain, tenderness, stiffness, soreness, spasm, swelling, weakness, limitation of motion, restriction of use, impairment of function, exacerbation of pain on motion, with damage to the underlying muscles, tendons, ligaments, fascia, blood vessels, capillaries and nerves in and about all of the above injury sites, with resultant disfigurement, deformity and disability.

The aforementioned injuries resulted in shock to the body and nervous system, produced functional and organic disturbances, sympathetic and radiating to and about the adjacent and surrounding areas, as well as tissue damages.

Mental and emotional overlay as a result of the trauma and the aforesaid injuries, accompanied by anxiety, irritability, depression, aggravation and associated and concomitant impairment and negative effects on plaintiff's preaccident enjoyment of life, day to day existence, activities, function and involvements.

The injuries, manifestations and sequelae are permanent, chronic and progressive in nature and that as a result thereof, plaintiff will have permanent pain, tenderness, stiffness, soreness, irritation, discomfort, limitation of motion, limitation and loss of function, power and use and additionally, with advancing years, there will be naturally and medically related complications and exacerbations.

As a result, plaintiff's quality of life has been severely compromised. Plaintiff cannot return to nor is it expected that plaintiff will ever be able to return to, a level of function consistent with plaintiff's abilities prior to the accident, and plaintiff has and will continue to sustain impairment, impediment, diminution and retardation of enjoyment of life.

Upon information and belief, all of the aforementioned injuries are permanent and lasting in their nature and character, except those of a superficial nature.

See Exhibit "C" at ¶ 6.

12. Plaintiff furthermore underwent a second surgical procedure on February 9, 2007, a development not yet formally disclosed by plaintiff's counsel during the course of discovery which defendants learned about by means of records acquired via authorizations.

13. Defendants expressly reserve their right to contest all issues of damages and liability in this matter. However, a reasonable reading of the claims plaintiff has asserted, together with plaintiff's formal demand for $2,000,000 in compensatory damages, demonstrates that the amount in controversy exceeds the minimum jurisdictional of $75,000. E.g., Hunt v. Washington State Apple Advertising Comm'n, 432 U.S. 333, 347 (1977); United Food & Commercial Workers Union v. CenterMark Properties Meriden Square, Inc., 30 F.3d 298, 303-04 (2d Cir. 1994) (preponderance of evidence sufficient to establish reasonable probability that jurisdictional minimum has been satisfied); Harries v. Caterpillar, Inc., 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 66408, 3-4 (E.D.N.Y. Sep. 7, 2007) (noting that formal response to demand for ad damnum pursuant to CPLR 3017 of amount in excess of $75,000 would satisfy amount in controversy requirement).

14. Given DeLeon's testimony under oath that he had become a North Carolina citizen prior to commencement of this action, and the above proof that the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000, this Court is vested with subject-matter jurisdiction of this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 1332(a), and this action may be removed to this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1441. Annexed hereto as Exhibit "E" is written consent to removal of this action executed by counsel for all defendants herein.

15. Notwithstanding the amount of time that has passed between the date of commencement and the present, removal of this matter remains timely. At the outset, the case stated by plaintiff's initial pleading was rendered unremovable by plaintiff's counsel through the simple expedient of misrepresenting plaintiff's true domicile. Plaintiff's answers to questions regarding his residency during the course of his deposition on March 6 and March 7, 2008, constituted a "paper" within the meaning of the removal statute. Dell'Aera v. Home Depot, U.S.A., Inc., 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 50815, 7-8 (D. Conn. 2007) (federal courts may look outside pleadings to other evidence in the record to confirm removability of action); Fisher v. Untied Airlines, Inc., 218 F.Supp. 223 (S.D.N.Y. 1963) (answers to deposition questions can constitute "other paper" for purposes of accrual of duty to seek removal).

16. Thus, the thirty (30) day deadline for seeking removal of this action did not start to run until defendants came into possession of proof that diversity of citizenship exists in this matter, and plaintiff's earlier formal allegations were, in fact, misrepresentations. E.g., Soto v. Apple Towing, 111 F.Supp.2d 222 (E.D.N.Y. 2000) (citing Fisher with approval for proposition that pleadings which do not reveal a basis for removal fail to impose a duty of investigation on defendants who later seek removal, and deadline begins to run upon receipt by defendants of information sufficient to ascertain basis for removal). See also

Carter v. Frito-Lay, Inc., 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 17007 (11th Cir. 2005) (one-year deadline for removal of action based on diversity of citizenship inapplicable to action which was removable at the time it was originally commenced but where removability could not be ascertained from the pleadings).

17. Under New York law, plaintiff's misrepresentation of his true citizenship tolls any otherwise applicable procedural deadlines for removal. It is well established that the doctrines of equitable tolling or equitable estoppel "may be invoked to defeat a [procedural deadline such as a] statute of limitations defense when the plaintiff was induced by fraud, misrepresentations or deception to refrain from filing a timely action." Abbas v. Dixon, 480 F.3d 636 (2nd Cir. 2007) (quoting Doe v. Holy See (State of Vatican City), 17 A.D.3d 793, 793 N.Y.S.2d 565, 568 (3d Dep't 2005)). As the Second Circuit has noted:

The elements of estoppel are with respect to the party estopped: (1) conduct which amounts to a false representation or concealment of material facts; (2) intention that such conduct will be acted upon by the other party; and (3) knowledge of the real facts. The party asserting estoppel must show with respect to [it]self: (1) lack of knowledge of the true facts; (2) reliance upon the conduct of the party estopped; and (3) a prejudicial change in [its] position

Smith v. Smith, 830 F.2d 11, 12 (2d Cir. 1987).

18. Here, plaintiff was under a legal obligation to truthfully set forth his true place of citizenship in his initial verified pleadings and subsequent verified bill of particulars. Nonetheless, it was not until plaintiff was called upon to testify under penalty of perjury that he revealed that he had permanently relocated from New York to North Carolina prior to commencement of the instant action.

19. Accordingly, this Notice of Removal is being filed with the within Court in a timely fashion. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1446(d), defendants will provide written notice to plaintiff's counsel and all other interested parties and thereafter file a copy of this Notice of Removal with the Clerk of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of Bronx.

WHEREFORE, defendants respectfully request that the above-captioned action, presently assigned New York State Supreme Court, Bronx County, Index Number 13662/2006, be removed from the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of Bronx, that the Clerk of said State Court be directed to transfer and furnish the complete file maintained by said State Court to the within Court, and that the Court grant such other, further and different relief as the Court deems just and proper.
